Treasury Department,

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., February 14, 1880.

Sir:

I understand since leaving your City, that the Chairman of the Assay Commission - Judge Butler - whose home is in West Chester, came to Philadelphia and stopped at the Continental in order to be present at the meeting of the Commission. As no payment was made to this gentleman for his necessary expenses I think you should inquire whether he incurred any on account of his presence at the Mint, and if so they should be reimbursed to him.

Very respectfully

Horace Brinchard

Director.
